ext of the Lesson, John Iv, 43-54. Memory Vevues, 49-51-Golden Text, John Iv. 53-Commentary Prepared by the Rev. D. M. Stearne.

[Copyright, 1898, by D. M. Stearns.] 43. "Now after two days He departed thence and went into Gallice." The Samaritans, hearing the woman's testimony, mine unto Him to hear Him for themselves. Many believed because of what she told them, and through their eutrenty He abode there two days, and many more elieved because of His own word (verses 39-42). Thus souls were saved, united to Him, made partakers of llis redemption and Ilis giery, and there was joy in heaven as well as in Samaria (Luke xv, 7, 10). Untoid biessing came to them through this Jew, and because of Him they forgot their 44, "For Jesus Ilimseif testified that a propiet liath no honor lit his own country." llis own country was Nazareth, and, though He tangist in their synagogue, they only wondered at him and called Him the carpenter's son and were offended at liim, so He did not many mighty works there because of their unbelief Mintil, xiii, 54-58). We need not think it strange if sometimes these nearest to us do not think much of us. If well known heaven, we can be content to be unknown on earth, and the consciousness of lis approval, whose we are and whem w is everything (Acts xxvii, 23; 11 serve, is ever Tim. ii, t5).

45. "Then when He was come into Gal-iee the Galileeans received Him, having seen all the things that He did at Jerusalem at the feast, for they also went unto the feast." At the feast of Jerusalem He ind cleansed the temple and wrought many miraeles (chapter ii, 17, 23). At one time He said, The works that I do bear witness of me that the Father hath sent Me (John v. 86), and He also said, The Father who dwelleth in Me He doeth the works (xiv, 10). We are commanded to let our light so shine that others may ee our good works and giorify our Father wijich is ln heaven.

46. "So Jesus camo again into Cana of Galilee, where He made the water wine, and there was a certain nobleman whose son was sick at Capernaum." At the mar-riage lie supplied their need, He delivered from a difficulty, He manifested Ilis glory. He is the same yesterday, today and forever (Heb. xiii, 8), and we are assured that He wiii supply ali our need, and deliver from ali difficulties, and preserve us unto His kingdom (Phil. iv, 10; 11 Tim.

47. "When he heard that Jesus was come out of Judgea Into Galilee, he went unto Him and besought Him that He would come down and heal his sen, for he was at the point of death." He heard that Jesus was come, therefore some one must have been telling. How necessary it is that we should be ever teiling that Jesus inscome and suffered and died and risen agaic, and by His life and death and resurrection provided eternal redomption for all who will receive Him, and that Ho will come again to give immortal bodies to all His people-and to set up His king dom on the earthi
48. "Theu said Jesus unto him, Except ye see signs and wonders ye will not be-lieve." Faith needs to be tried, for by trial faith is strengthened. Jesus nover said an unkind or an unaecessary word, and therefore there was a cause why He should thus speak to this nobieman. They were over saying, Shew us a sign. What sign shewest Thou (Math. xii, 38; John ii, 18) and there may have been a desire for such even in this man's heart, for the Lord knew what was in man.

of faith, believing that If Jesus will only pitiful in II Sam. xviii, 33, because It was too late. What ilid our Father in Heaven

50. "Jesus saith unto him, Go thy way, and he went his way." The same voice which said, Let there be light, and there was light; the same word that made the heavens and all their host; the Ono to whom nothing is hard or wonderful (Gen. i, 8; Ps. xxxiii, 6; Jer. xxxil, 17) said to confidence and goes his way expecting to find his son living and not dying. There are joy and peace in believing, but there is no steadfastness apart from it (Rom. xv, 13; Il Chron, xx, 20; Isa, vii, 9).

51. "And as he was now going down ing servants met him and toid him, say-lng, 'Thy son liveth.'' And so it came to pass as Jesus said. When Paul was told hy the angel lu the storm at sea, after all hope was given up, that all would be saved, he stood forth and said, He of good eheer, for I believo God that it shall be even as i. was told me. And so it came to pass (Acts xxvii, 25, 44). When Mary believed the message of Gabriel, it is writ-ten of her, "Blessed is she that believed, for there shall be a performance of those things which were told her from the Lord' (Luke i, 45).

52. "Then inquired he of them the hour when he began to amead. And they said unto him, Yesterday at the seventh hour the fever left him." We may imagine the anxious watchers after the father left home and how they would reckon the time till his return, bringing with him the great prophet. They would say, Now he is at Cana, now he is perhaps taiking to Him, now if he has found Him he ought to be ienving for home, and all the time they would be watching the sick boy, perhaps imble to lift his head, and not caring to pen his eyes, and they were longing for

63. "So the father knew that It was at he same nour in the which Jeses said unto him, Thy son liveth, and himself believed and his whole house." Faith couleth by hearing the word of God (Rom. x, 17). Every promise believed and fulfilled increases onr faith, and if only we are will-lng and yielded our God will fulfill in us he work of faith with power (11 Thess. i,

54. "This is again the second miracle that Jesus did when He was come out of Judwa into Gailioc." In the two miracles we have gladness and health. In His presence is fuliness of joy. There is a river the streams whereof make glad.
